Land Acknowledgement

"The University of Alberta respectfully acknowledges that we are situated on Treaty 6 territory, traditional lands of First Nations and Métis people."

Visit Native Land Digital, a beautiful and informative site that can help you understand more about traditional territories here in Alberta and around the world.

Course Syllabus

You can access a digital copy of our syllabus for viewing or download anytime at the above link.

The details on, and dates for, course readings, listenings, and assignments are below.

Guided Listening Practice Sign-Up Sheet

One of your assignments is a Guided Listening Practice, explained in more detail in our syllabus. Most of our Fridays will be devoted to this assignment, and there will be a maximum of three presentations on those days. You're required to choose one day on which you will lead a guided listening practice. Please consider what date what might be best for you and enter your name on our sign-up sheet here.

A couple of notes: 1) I'd strongly encourage you to choose a date early in the term when you're not as busy; 2) once you've committed to a date, it may be hard to change that, or the alternative might not be to your liking, so please give this careful thought and make the best choice possible.

NEW NOTE: If you have a digital sound you'd like to share for this presentation, please upload it to this google docs folder so you can access it from the podium for playback. You can upload a sound file or you can upload a Word doc with a weblink depending on your source.
